This book describes a process to help students understand scientific literature, using the Matrix Method to critically evaluate.